

LECTURE – Liam Ball – Monday 6th January 2025

Moustache Curling Magic

Rings, Strings, Wallets, Cups, and other thoughts

A Lecture by Liam Ball – The Gentleman Magician

In his first lecture, Moustache Curling Magic, Liam Ball - The Gentleman Magician, shares a lifetime of passion in the magical arts, and decades of hard-earned knowledge laid bare.

With a number of hard hitting magical effects, Liam shares his passion for performance and out of the box thinking. This lecture includes some commercial routines that you most likely already own the props for, or can easily purchase, along with a few impromptu pieces that you can do with items around you in pretty much any restaurant.

Liam's thinking on magic has a high impact, for sometimes minimal preparation.

With a little something for everyone, Moustache Curling Magic, is a great lecture for any magic society or magicians event.

Who is the lecture suitable for?

There is something here for everyone. The lecture includes some performances, as well as explanations and also covers various technical levels from total beginner up to an accomplished sleight of hand practitioner.

It says some impromptu effects, but are they really impromptu?

Yes 100%. I have included effects using napkins, and glasses which require no preparation, and can be done in pretty much any restaurant with borrowed objects and some effects where you need nothing more than something to write on.

Do you have lecture notes or other products to sell at the end of your lecture?

Yes, but this is NOT a dealer dem. I'm not going to pull out the last 10 effects on sale at Murphy's.

My lecture notes are exceptionally high quality with QR codes linked to online videos. Explanations have detailed notes, photographs and flowcharts (who doesn't love a good flowchart?) and are sold for £20 each.

I only have a selection of bespoke items relevant to the lecture which make some of the effects easier to perform or prepare for.
